Describe a time when you thought a lot about spending your money.

You should say:

- how much money you had
 - what you wanted to do with the money
 - what things you considered before spending your money
- and explain what you decided to do in the end.

Generally speaking, I consider myself a frugal person, so I usually think a lot before making a purchase, whether it be my new laptop or my new car. However, today I decided that I'm going to talk about the one time when I was really hesitant about buying a new phone.

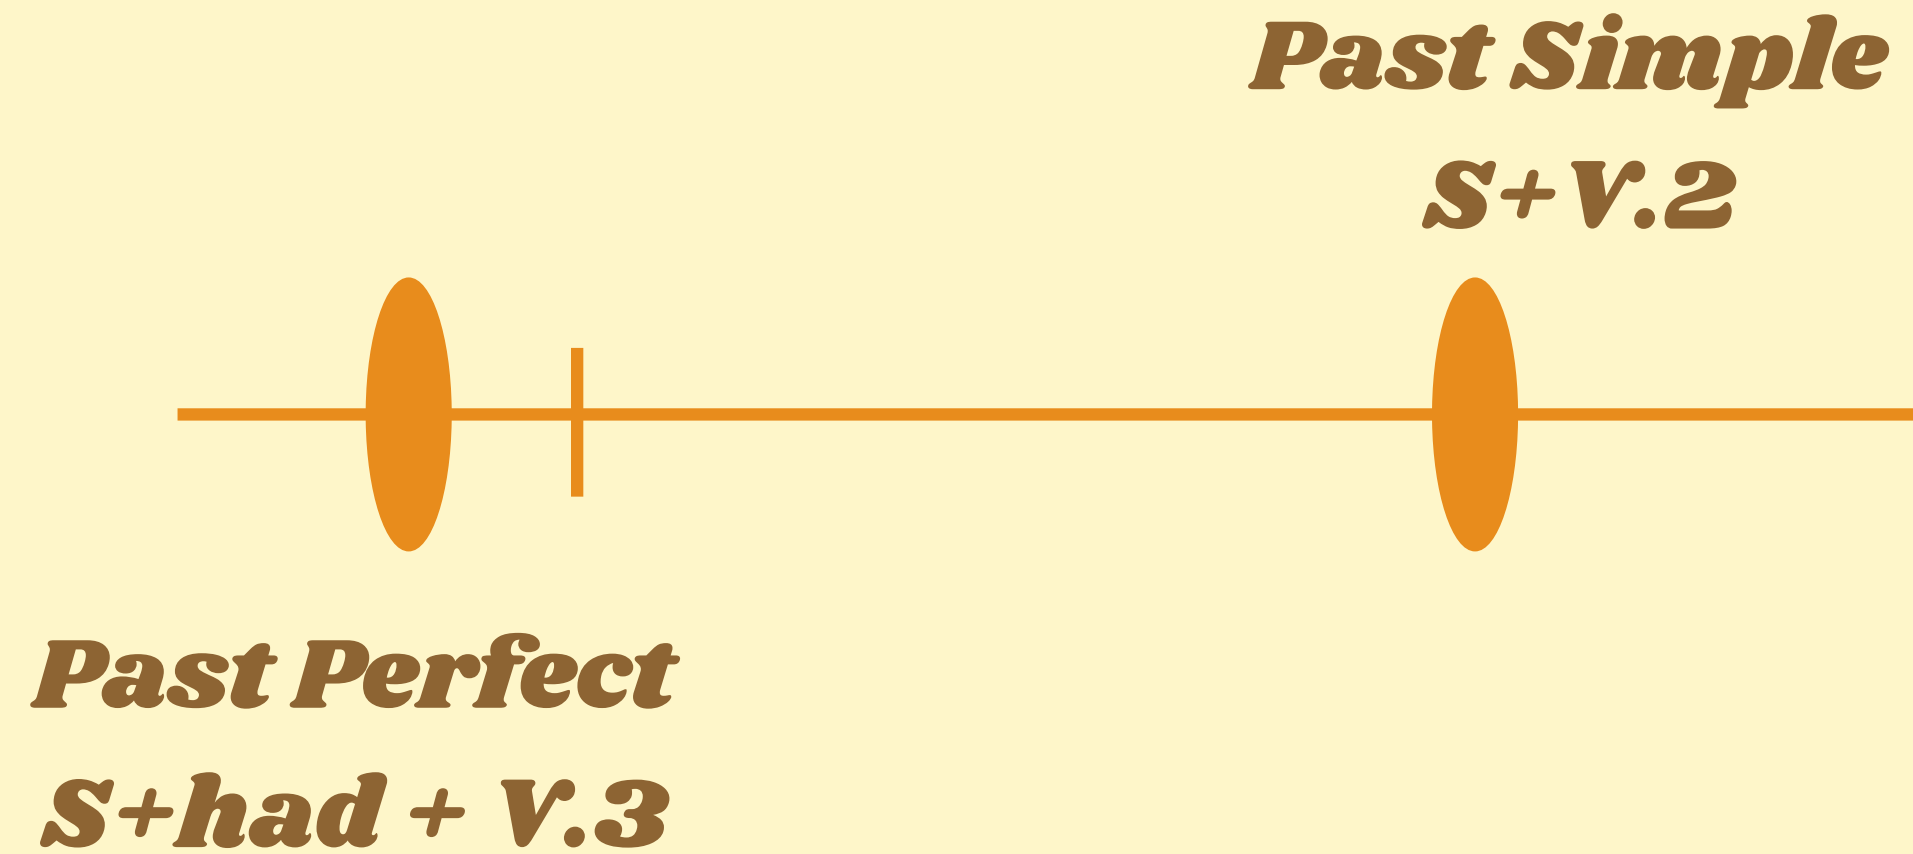

PART 2 : what is the event/ who were you with

- GRAMMAR :

- Past Simple
- Past Continuous
 - I was drinking coffee at a park, then a guy asked me for my money.

Useful Template

- I used to live/work...., and I would.....
- At that moment/ at that time + past simple
 - I had to
 - I wanted to
 - I decided to

Ex. I had worked for the company for 3 years when this happened.

Example (PART 2)

- Talk about the time when you had to organize a meeting

To start off, I had worked for this company for 3 years as a project assistant, and we had to help a client with a social media project. The client was a company in the healthcare industry. They wanted to sell supplements for kids. For this reason, I had to work with them on their social media campaigns. I had spent 3 months working together before my boss told me to organize a meeting with the client.

To start off, back in 2017. I had worked for almost 4 years and saved some money before my car started to break down. However, I needed a car every day because I needed to travel to work in the city center, and the only way to travel from my home to my workplace was by driving. Honestly, it wasn't an easy decision to make because I wanted a car that would last a long time, a brand that I could trust, and those types of cars were generally extremely expensive. And that's why I spent many months just thinking over and over whether I needed a new luxury car.

Part 3 : Useful phrases

- There are a couple of reasons why.....
 - I enjoyed this trip
 - the meeting was crucial
 - something occurred/ took place/ happened
- I experienced a number of feelings.....
 - happy/ pleased
 - sad/ depressed/ stressed
 - excited/ nervous/ shocked
 - grateful/ thankful

Moving on to the things that I had to do before I decided to buy that car, the first thing that I had to do was to really take into consideration the risks of having that car because buying a car is just not buying a car. You had to take into account the installments, the interest rate, and the cost of maintenance. So, there were a lot of things that I had to really consider before I purchased the car. Secondly, I had to really make sure that my old car was really going to break down because if it was going to last another two or three years, then I'd rather save my money and postpone my decision to get a new one.

Part 4 : Useful grammar

Looking back.....(+)

- I am glad that I took this trip
- I am so thankful for this experience
- I couldn't ask for a better (friend/ family/ trip..)

Looking back.....(-)

- I wish I had known better
- Looking back, I wouldn't have done xxxx
- Looking back, I am glad that I was over
- I wish somebody had warned me before I + v.2

Looking back, I am really glad that I finally made a decision to buy that car because after I got it, I was able to drive to places without having any worries. Furthermore, I was able to save a lot of money from constantly repairing my old car. Moreover, I was actually lucky that I was able to sell my old car for a very good price, so I didn't have to pay a lot of money to get a new one.
